HULMEVILLE COUNCIL AUTHORIZES ITS SOLICITOR TO LOOK INTO LEGAL ASPECTS FOR SECURING WATER FOR ENTIRE BORO'

More Detailed Information Presented Regarding Possible Water Supply in Event That Water Authority is Established There — Depth Suggested for Wells in Rock Formation Area is 300 to 400 Feet.

HULMEVILLE, Dec. 5—More detailed information was presented to Hulmeville borough council last evening, regarding possible water supply in the event that a water authority is established in the borough and wells dug here. The borough solicitor was authorized to look into the legal aspects—both as regards establishment of such an authority, and whether the company now supplying water to a portion of the borough can be required to serve the entire town.

Information gained through a preliminary survey and suggestions on the part of representatives of a geological survey group and a well-drilling firm, were presented to councilmen by one of the membership, Willard Bartoe. Mr. Bartoe, after informing he had made two contacts regarding the local water situation, stated that it is the opinion of geologists that Hulmeville is not on the Raritan sand formation, but rather on the Wissahickon rock formation, and the opinion is that good water supply (with 10-inch wells suggested) could be secured at depth of possibly 300 or 400 feet. It was felt, he added, that there would be no question as far as getting water is concerned, and that at that depth a yield of at least 50 to 60 gallons per minute could be expected. Services of those providing such information, added Councilman Bartoe, were voluntary.

The borough solicitor, Lawrence Monroe, Esq., Langhorne, was informed of the present water situation, and his advice was sought as to what steps the borough can take to assure residents of the entire borough of domestic water supply. At present Langhorne Spring Water Co. lines extend into the borough only about 900 feet. The matter is to be investigated further. Council authorized purchase of a book giving information on establishment of a water authority.

Another matter on which council sought enlightenment from the solicitor is in connection with an ordinance curbing locating of trailers within the borough.

President George Bilger called upon Chief of Police Ernest Maret for his report for the month. This included: four stop-sign violations; Continued on Page Two

THREE YOUTHS FLEE FROM CROYDON ROAD AMID SEVERAL SHOTS FIRED BY POLICE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5—(INS)—Three youths believed to be wanted in Bucks County for a series of gasoline station hold-ups eluded state police last night in a shot-punctuated stolen car chase which ended when the trio disappeared in woods in Holmesburg.

Cp. Charles Jones, of the Langhorne barracks, said he approached to question the trio in a parked car on State Road in Croydon, and gave chase when the car sped away.

He fired several shots at the fleeing car and its occupants returned the fire. The suspects raced through Croydon to Solly st. and Rowland ave., where their car hit an embankment, and the youths jumped out and disappeared in the woods.

The car had been stolen from John Holnoski, of Frankford. Police said Holnoski's license tags had been replaced with others stolen from a car owned by E. Gilmore, of Kings ave., Cornwells Heights.

State police said the trio answered the descriptions of the Bucks County gas station robbers.

A meeting of the Neshamony Methodist committee on hospitals and homes is scheduled for Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Roger S. Burns.

A meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, Goodwill Hose Company, No. 3, will be held Wednesday evening in the fire station, at which time election of officers will be conducted. There will be an exchange of gifts, not to exceed $1 in value. Arrangements will be made for a trip to Bethlehem, Dec. 20th.

ONE MORE CHANCE

The most significant point about the November election was that it gave the Republican Party one more chance to redeem itself nationally—when it could easily have sent the Republicans to the showers and to oblivion.

The Republican Party has muffed many chances since 1932. On the basis of national performance, it could hardly have survived. The victories which have kept it going have been those of State Administrations, U. S. Senators, and Congressmen. By and large, these lesser victories have been won because Republicans courageously upheld the basic philosophies of the Party in sectional fights.

The amazing thing is that in four presidential elections, the Republicans have failed to find a single nominee who would lead the campaign aggressively along traditional party lines. We have had four non-belligerent "me too" campaigns, with any stalwart Republicans who got aboard shoved far into the back seats—such as McNary and Bricker.

Equally amazing as a commentary on Republican leadership of recent years is the fact that the Party has done much better in national elections where it had no campaign leadership at all—that it, in the "by" elections when no Presidential nominees were in the race, and the Congressmen, Senators and Governors were "on their own."

It's very rare in history that a political party thus lays down on its fundamental duty of championing a body of principles, and does so consistently for no less than eighteen years—and still is able to muster strength enough at the end of that time for a serious final two-year drive to return to power.

The factors which made this possible now are largely accidental—that is, they were beyond human control or prediction, and were brought into the picture as the indirect result of other matters quite unassociated with contemporary political issues.

The Korean War, the red-spy scandals, the over-confidence of the Truman Administration—these all played a part. So did the fact that noisy politico-labor bosses appear finally to have outstayed their welcome. These lions have lost their teeth. Even Continued on Page Three

Re-election of the president and vice-president, resignation of a football coach, notice that all supplemental contracts are to be reviewed before renewal, and referring teachers salary requests to the finance committee, were the important business transacted at a meeting of the Bristol Borough School Board, last evening.

John Dougherty was unanimously re-elected president of the board and Alfred E. Lewis was named vice-president without opposition at the organization meeting, which followed the regular board session. Norman Ryan presided at this meeting.

Dougherty expressed his appreciation for the opportunity to endeavor to do "a better job next year." He said that he would name committees later and he thanked the school authorities and members of the board for the co-operation given him during the past year.

All members of the board attended except Dr. H. Richard Giordano. The resignation of Harry McClister as varsity football coach was accepted.

BRISTOL SCHOOL BOARD AND DELHAAS BOARD TO MEET TO DISCUSS MUTUAL PROBLEMS EARLY NEXT YEAR

Letter from Bristol Board Suggests Parley — Delhaas Board Re-Elects Norman Roberts As President — Transacts Routine Business Affairs.

The Delhaas Joint School Board, last night, voted to meet with the Bristol Borough School Board to discuss problems of mutual interest. Some of the problems to be considered at this meeting were talked over and it was agreed that the meeting should be held early in 1951.

A letter from the Bristol Borough School Board was read at the meeting by Clarence G. Young, secretary. The letter invited the Delhaas board to meet with the Bristol board.

The meeting, it is believed, will deal with the two school districts uniting into one district, looking toward a joint high school.

Dr. Charles Boehm Attends Meeting of Township School Board

ELECT ALLMAN PRES'T

John L. Allman was elected president of the Bristol Township School Board at the meeting held last evening in the junior high school on Rodgers Road. One board member and a teacher resigned and other problems were discussed. Edgar A. Spencer, president of the board, presided with all members present except James Robinson.

Dr. Charles Boehm, county superintendent of schools, and Joseph Wigmore, school architect, attended the meeting to discuss the proposed new Croydon school. Mr. Wigmore showed the board preliminary drawings of the school which will be of a parabolic design.

Dr. Boehm told the board that the eight-class-room school to be built in Croydon on the recently acquired tract of land, is the starting of the fine building program that the township has planned. He then told the board how the State Authority works and that it would be a while yet before the township would get the money with which to build the school.

William Clifton, chairman of the finance committee, recommended that all the money in excess of the amount put in the budget received from the real estate transfer tax, be placed in the construction fund. The board members discussed this idea and decided to accept the recommendation.

Mr. Miller reported that transportation was needed for the basketball team, both for the games and for practice. The board discussed this problem and decided to use the school buses if possible, to take the team to and from practice and to hire buses for the games, the same as was done for the football schedule.

William Clifton, treasurer of the board, took over the meeting for the election of officers for the coming year. Norman Roberts, from the Tullytown board, was re-elected president, and Russell Straub, from the Bristol township board, was re-elected vice-president.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan (Distributed by International News Service)

These are the days of the 10-point programs, 6-point programs, 9-point programs and no-point-at-all programs.

But if I were Acheson I would be special careful. . . . He came up with a 6-point program to the President's 3-pointer and employees are not supposed to have more ideas than the boss.

Tom Watson, the business machine man, has the simplest program of all. . . . His has 1 point, "Think!"

Mr. Watson has thought himself into a sizeable fortune and most of his officers with him, so it must work.

In fact when a President or a Governor or a Senator is sworn in, instead of the customary oath they might just ask him "And do you solemnly promise to think?"

There's nothing very dramatic about that one word "think" but if you were to start tracing most bad situations back to their beginnings you would find that somebody didn't think nearly enough.

"Think!" hangs in every IBM office. . . . Too bad it doesn't go with every elective office.

AN IDLE WEAPON

Drama gets the biggest headlines because it is the biggest news. President Truman's ad lib reply to a reporter's question about the atom bomb not only made the headlines, but started Great Britain's socialist prime minister flying to Washington.

No doubt thousands of American boys in Korea, before they died, have wondered despairingly for what Washington was saving the A-bomb. To a boy of 19 facing Asian hordes, discussions about whether it would be "right" to drop an atomic bomb on the savages must seem damnable.

The atomic bomb is a military weapon. This country has never used it for aggression. It is almost the only weapon in which the U. S. holds superiority over an enemy whose present military power is vastly greater in every other department.

This enemy has committed aggression and is threatening American survival. It should not be necessary to state the obvious fact that this nation cannot afford the quixotism of letting its best weapon lie idle indefinitely.

When and how it shall be used is a military decision, to be left to military men. To some situations the atom bomb is as ill adapted as a bazooka would be for duck hunting.

After being sucked into Korea by Russia, Washington has been exercising painful restraint. Interminable days have been lost waiting for decisions by the UN, etc. This restraint has not been matched by the enemy, which is Russia—although the fact that the enemy is Russia is seldom mentioned above a whisper in Washington.

MacArthur has been forced to fight a limited war, applying the military principle of economy of means. Desperate appeasement moves are now being engaged in. But there is no doubt that before long this country will have no choice but to use more effective weapons than discussions with the enemy and his puppets at the UN and at Washington.

EGGS FOR DEFENSE

While American soldiers were suffering severely because of inadequate clothing to meet the rigors of a Korean winter, the Department of Defense recently went into the open market and bought 5,000,000 dozen eggs in a four-week period, paying the regular market price which is supported by the government. It also bought 4,000,000 pounds of butter and 1,000,000 pounds of cheese.

Simultaneously the Commodity Credit Corporation was buying the same products at support prices, to be added to its already enormous hoard of food, which is deteriorating rapidly and will eventually be thrown away or destroyed.

Meanwhile President Truman continues to reiterate the American people must pay more and more taxes to defray defense outlays, but gives nary a hint that waste and extravagance are to be ended in the same cause.

GRAND JURY PASSES ON 49 INDICTMENTS

Thirty-Eight of The Bills Declared To Be True By Jury

MAKES SUGGESTIONS

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 5.—The grand jury passed on 49 bills of indictment for the December term of criminal court which gets underway today. Thirty-eight of the bills were found true, ten not true and one not true on the first count but true on the second and third.

After visiting the County Prison, the Grand Jury said everyone agreed that Warden Earl D. Handy should be commended on the good job he was doing and that it was found in good condition.

Following a visit to the County Home, it also was found in good condition. The Grand Jury suggested some improvements for the Juvenile Department, including equipping the playground with toys and juvenile furniture.

The walls should be appropriately decorated, and there should be a play area outside the building equipped with playground equipment, including swings, sandboxes, see-saws and wagons.

In the building, which contains the hospital or infirmary, and also where the women inmates live, there should be sun porch facilities. The women, who cannot get out of doors or are not allowed out after supper should have a sun porch in which to sit.

The Grand Jury suggested the large, handsome oak doors at the main entrance of the Court House be renovated and restored. The hurricane washed all the varnish off and discolored them.

Recognizing the lack of space in all departments in the Court House, and realizing the increased burden of service demands in the "Row" offices, the Grand Jury suggested an immediate study of the problems and that a planning committee be formed to outline a future building program.

The Court District Attorney and Assistant District Attorney were thanked for their aid and co-operation. David R. Jarden, Huntingdon Valley, R. D., was foreman, and Mrs. Grace DeWitt Hayman, Doylestown, was secretary.

17,000 Each Month Plead for "Truth"

among an average 17,000 or more letters a month to "Voice" headquarters in New York, states in part:

"I listen every day with pleasure to your truthful information... especially when you speak of the Soviet Union. Do not think that the Russian people cannot separate truth from lies. They are tired of Bolshevik lies. They don't want to listen to the Bolsheviks, and they do want to listen to the Voice of America."

From the Russian zone in Germany: "Not thousands, but hundreds of thousands, even millions of Germans listened to your broadcast from New York last night."

"Seventeen reliable persons were assembled in our room and listened, close to the radio, to this report on the first shipment of foodstuffs. Believe me, all of us, without exception, were so moved by this helpfulness that our feeling of gratitude and appreciation cannot be expressed in words. Yes, we will not lose courage, for we are unalterably convinced that the American people will not let us down."

Another German listener tells of having served as a radio technician in Moscow for five years, while a prisoner of war, and of listening regularly to Voice of America broadcasts. He adds:

"As far as the Russian language (Voice of America) broadcasts are concerned, I can safely state that these broadcasts are given more credence than Ivestia or Pravda reports."

"Continue reporting to the Soviet Union the truth about the west. One day people will be grateful to you for that—when the world picture will look a little different."

In Russian from Germany: "We lived in the Soviet Union until 1941, and know from personal experience the nightmare of Soviet life as well as the not too ingenious mechanics of Soviet elections. We can therefore state that your pre-election broadcasts (on the USSR) are marvelous, remarkable, simply inimitable."

From the Russian zone, Germany: "...What your broadcasts mean to us in the Russian-occupied zone can hardly be put into words—the interest and suspense with which we listen, always trying to listen for that ray of hope which would give us cause to believe in a liberation from the regime which rules us here now. It would be completely unbearable here were it not for the knowledge that the outside world knows of our indescribable suffering and stands ready to help us—yes, even free us of it some day."

From Turkey: "...Your broadcasts are just like an antidote to the poisonous broadcasts of countries behind the Iron Curtain. They are clearing our minds of dark opinions."

From Berlin: "I, as well as many thousands of others probably, believe that much of world history would have been different if your broadcasts would have been brought to us already prior to 1933."

From Czechoslovakia: "...You are doing an immensely responsible work for the suffering people of Czechoslovakia. It gives new hope and confidence for a better future. There is probably not a single family that has not suffered somehow by a brutal act of the present regime. Daily people disappear."

"In the past Germans used to beat Czechs. Today Czechs beat Czechs without pity. We run from one wall to another. We get our instructions from the Generalissimo (Stalin) from Georgia."

From Shanghai, in Red China: "Our countrymen are entirely blocked from the news of the world and what one sees in the paper are propaganda for the USSR, Stalin and other ridiculous bluffs. The policy of the Communists is cheating!"

This Shanghai listener says that the Chinese Communists are regarded as "foreign conquerors" since they represent Russia, and goes on to express the fear that the Soviets may promote a false peace in Korea. He adds that he is but one of millions of listeners to the American broadcasts in China.

From Hongkong a listener writes of enjoying the Voice programs of popular music and adds: "In Shanghai the Communists ban such programs under threat of a jail term, yet many people continue listening. Your program is doing a lot to help the people under the Iron Curtain and you are doing a good job piercing it."

No matter what stores you may shop in today... hardware stores, grocery stores, drugstores, service stations, clothing stores... it's likely that you'll find a Bell Telephone man or woman shopping there too.

It takes more than 30,000 people to provide telephone service for Pennsylvania. With steady jobs and good wages, these people are good customers of many, many local business establishments. Thus the money you spend in payment of telephone bills does more than buy good telephone service. It helps, indirectly, to provide work and wages for uncounted men and women in all sorts of businesses, from one end of the state to the other.

the Edgely school were received John Allman announced. Harry C. Barth bid $100 and Earely Plumbing and Heating bid was $128 for the fountain. The contract was given to Barth, the low bidder.

The contract to install a new 10" weatherproof bell at the Old Edgely school and the junior high school and also a complete fire alarm system at the Terrace school, was awarded to George P. Bailey & Sons for $255.10. The other bidder was Earl Mullen, whose bid was $351.80.

Mr. Allman reported that the storm took most of the roof off the old Edgely School and damaged the roof on the junior high school. Frank Barnes and his maintenance crew worked very hard to prevent any more damage than was done. If they had not done so much more damage would have been done. "Mr. Barnes and myself went up on the roof of the junior high school and put a few more nails in it to try to hold it down, so that it would not come off completely," Allman said.

Clarence Young, secretary of the board, read a letter from James Robinson resigning from the board. Mr. Robinson has been a member of the board for the past 17 years. He wrote that it is impossible for him to devote the time necessary.

The board accepted his resignation with regret and appointed Harry C. Barth to fill the unexpired term, which will end in December, 1951.

Mrs. Edith Berkey Dyson, also tendered her resignation, which the board accepted with regret. She taught third grade in the Edgely school.

Walter D. Miller, regional superintendent, reported that Mrs. D. McCollum, elementary supervisor, would like to attend the reading consort being held at Temple University in Phila. The board granted the request.

William Clifton took over the meeting for the election of officers for the coming year. John Allman was elected president and William Vetter was elected vice president.

One More Chance

President Truman no longer talks about "repeal" of the Taft-Hartley Law—now the most he has in mind is to amend it.

To realize how much the Republicans won in an election which was in no sense a "Republican sweep," one has to stop to consider where the Party might have been if only a few of the returns had reversed themselves.

Suppose Taft had lost instead of winning in Ohio. Or, for that matter, suppose he had won by the skin of his teeth, instead of by a smashing landslide. Suppose Milliken had been defeated, and Capehart, and Dirksen, and the various other old-line Republicans who represent the back-bone of the Party.

Suppose on the other hand, there hadn't been such a punitive attitude on the part of the voters towards the President's "next friends"—Senator Myers, and Senator Lucas, and Senator Tydings, etc., etc. Adding in the names of those who went the voyage early in the year—men like Senator Pepper and Senator Graham—and adding in also such incidental victims as Governor Bowles, the fact is that probably never in our history within the space of so few months has a President seen so many of his trusted associates singled out by the electorate for political extermination. A little more of this, and it may easily be that Presidential favor under the present regime will come to be considered a sort of "kiss of death."

Looking back, it is obvious that the Republican Party missed the boat badly after the 1946 elections. It now is obvious that winning majorities in both Houses of Congress that year put responsibilities upon the Republican Party which, in the absence of cooperation from the White House, were unsupportable.

One has only to contrast the manner in which the Democrats used control of Congress in the second half of the Hoover Administration (1931-32) to dynamite the Republican Party and to open the gates for their long regency at Washington, to realize how little political profit the Republicans made of the 1946 victory.

Actually, the Republican prospects are a trifle, better, in several respects, today than they were in 1946. Both Houses technically are Democratic. The Republicans are simply the party of the opposition. Moreover, the 1946 election brought in a host of Republican "freshmen," and incalculable damage had resulted before these men learned enough of the ropes to take care of themselves. The Republican leadership in the two Houses today is trained, toughened, and should prove competent.

Again, a number of bug-a-boos have been knocked down and exposed which were still frightening the timid back in 1946. No longer does the whisper of "isolationism" send shivers of apprehensions down the backs of those who criticize the Truman foreign policy. Today it is only too obvious that some alternative policy to Truman "globalism" must be found if we are to hope for survival as a nation.

Likewise, "bipartisanship" no longer is a hypnotic catchword which automatically stops all clearheaded thinking when it is uttered. Four years of "bi-partisanship" has got the Republicans nowhere. Neither the White House nor the public has shown any gratitude. In fact, both seem to consider it to have been a stupid piece of business for the Republican Party to forswear its right to examine policies before committing itself to support them.

Another hob-goblin which will terrify fewer people hereafter is the PAC-CIO and associated labor union political groups which have been so free with threats and intimidation ever since this form of political action was introduced back in 1944.

The fact of the matter is that the PAC staked its political future on its ability to liquidate Taft in Ohio, and when he not merely won, but won by a landslide, and carried most labor union strongholds doing so, PAC was set back on its heels and will find it necessary to reorganize both its objectives and its methods before it can swing its weight around again at the national level.

The task ahead of the Republican Party is the utmost of simplicity. It's on borrowed time in national politics, and it has a two-year stay of execution in which to produce a national victory.

It has eighteen months to make up its mind on a leader who can and will become President of the United States.

For those who believe that the survival of the American Republic depends upon the success of the Republican Party, and who understand the collapse which the Party has been skirting since it was defeated in 1948, there is something miraculous about the fact that the Republicans still have approximately a fifty-fifty chance for the Presidential elections in 1952.

Providence has intervened to give the Republicans this one more opportunity. But it is going to be up to the Republican Party's rank and file, and to its leaders—primarily those in the two Houses of Congress—to avail themselves of that opportunity and to build towards victory.

who are fighting in Korea." He pointed out that they are fighting against "tremendous odds" and said:

"The full effort of the united people of this country is behind them." The President declared the most important thing young people will need in meeting the challenge of Communism in the years ahead "is moral strength—strength of character."

Mr. Truman continued: "In some ways, the moral and spiritual dangers that flow from Communism are a more serious threat to freedom than its military power."

The President recalled that "some people are most concerned about the Communist threat to our economic system." He said that, serious as this is, "it is only one of the many problems that Communism raises."

Mr. Truman attacked: "Communism attacks our basic values, our belief in God, our belief in the dignity of man and the value of human life, our belief in justice and freedom."

"It attacks the institutions that are based on these values." Mr. Truman said "every time our American institutions fail to live up to their high purposes, every time they fail in the proper administration of justice, the forces of Communism are aided in their attempt to poison the minds of men everywhere."

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today! Howard "Sonny" Peak, Southampton High, was chosen as the outstanding back, and Norman Sorenson, Bristol High, as the outstanding lineman, at the fourth annual banquet of the Lower Bucks County Chapter, P. I. A. A. Football Officials, last night, in the Lexington Casino, Philadelphia.

Peak, a senior, received the unanimous vote of all the coaches, officials, and sportswriters of Lower Bucks County. He was picked because of his offensive and defensive playing as well as the passing and kicking he did for the Southampton team which finished last in the Lower Bucks loop.

Peak was awarded a trophy for his being named the outstanding back. The trophy was awarded by Thomas Juno, representing the writers, and received on behalf of Peak by Claude Lodge, coach of the Southampton team.

Stanley Dick awarded the leading lineman trophy and it was accepted on behalf of Sorenson by Harry McClister, athletic director of Bristol High. The balloting on the linemen was very close.

St. Francis Vocational School was given a trophy for winning the Diamond 135-pound league championship while its star back, Gus DeHelle, was given the trophy for being the most valuable player. These awards were made by Joseph Diamanti and Henry Morgan, officials of the league.
